

Sex Toys Contain Phthalates

PRODUCTS OF INTEREST

By LANA BECKETT, November 30, 2016

The website Longevity<sup>1)</sup> warns readers that knock-off sex toys from China often do not hold the same production standards as US-made brands. Cheaper sex toys are most commonly made with toxic plastics filled with high levels of phthalates. The Environmental Protection Agency has classified phthalates as a possible human carcinogen. Unlike plastic medical devices, there is no regulatory body that monitors the standard of sex toys.

Resources for this article

1. Longevity

<http://www.longevitylive.com/selecting-your-sex-toy-wisely-could-prevent-cancer/>